BOOKCASES &
FILING CABINETS

BRANCH OFFICE: Flatiron Building, New York

A WORD OF INTRODUCTION

WE have been engaged in the manufacture of sectional bookcases for a number of years, having from time to time added to our equipment, until today we are one of the largest manufacturers of these cases in the United States.

We are manufacturing our cases under our own patents, in our own factory, which is equipped with the latest modern machinery and the most economical manufacturing devices known to the cabinet trade.

Economy, acquired by manufacturing on a very large scale, and selling our cases direct to users, enables us to quote prices at least 30 per cent below those quoted by our competitors, who are obliged to add the dealer's commission to the cost of their products.

In purchasing our sectional bookcases you are not helping to test a doubtful experiment, but are assured of an article which time and experience have proven a wonderful success.

Years of undivided attention to this one line of manufacture have resulted in a product embracing a number of valuable improvements, which place our products above comparison; in a class by themselves.

For information concerning our financial standing, and our ability to fulfill all contracts, as well as to adhere strictly to the terms of our guarantee, we would respectfully refer you to either of the commercial agencies, Dun or Bradstreet, also to the Little Falls National Bank of this city.

TERMS

ALL GOODS SHIPPED ON APPROVAL

All goods are shipped subject to the approval of the purchaser and may be returned at our expense if they do not give perfect satisfaction; orders for special goods excepted. In case goods are returned to us as unsatisfactory, we guarantee to refund promptly, remittance in full, upon request; we to pay freight charges both ways.

WE ASSUME ALL RESPONSIBILITY

We guarantee to deliver the goods in first class condition and assume all responsibility in case of damage or loss in shipment, special goods excepted.

Recognizing the fact that a catalogue can, at its best, give but a general idea of the goods shown therein, we only ask you to order, not to buy. The money accompanying your order is merely held in trust while the goods are shipped and examined.

ADVANTAGES OF ORDERING DIRECT

By ordering direct from the factory you have a better chance to inspect our sectional bookcases than if they were exhibited in a retail store. You decide as to their merits in the privacy of your own home, without agents and salesmen to influence you. You are always assured of receiving new and not shopworn stock. You also save at least 30 per cent, which would have to be added to our prices if we sold our cases through dealers.

The prices in our catalogue are strictly net.

WE PAY THE FREIGHT

To avoid the labor and expense of opening and collecting a large number of accounts, when cash accompanies orders amounting to $10.00 and upwards, we will pay the freight to all points in the United States east of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico. For delivery to points in and west of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico, we figure on dividing the extra freight charges and will prepay the freight on orders amounting to at least $10.00, for a small additional charge added to our catalog prices, as follows: for top and base sections, 20 cents each; for book sections, 30 cents each; for desk and double book sections, 60 cents each; for cupboard base sections, $1.25 each. The high freight rates to these far western points require this additional charge.

We do not pay express charges, but allow a discount of 5 per cent when requested to ship by express. Transportation charges will then be collected from consignee when goods are delivered. We will also allow this 5 per cent discount on orders amounting to less than $10.00 when shipped by freight, the freight charges to be paid by consignee.

Where C. O. D. shipment is desired, we require 25 per cent of the order in advance.

WHY OUR PRICES ARE LOW

Our low prices are not made with a view of underselling other manufacturers. Rigid economy, acquired by the manufacture of a single product in large quantities, combined with our modern methods of selling direct to the user, enable us to offer a superior article at a considerable saving in cost to the purchaser.

By comparing our prices with those quoted by other manufacturers you will find that you can save at least 30 per cent by purchasing direct from our factory.

We make a specialty of sectional bookcases, and have no agents, hence our ability to offer our goods at lower prices and on more liberal terms than any other manufacturer of sectional bookcases in the United States.

"All that mankind has done, thought, gained or been, it is lying as in magic preservation in the pages of books. They are the chosen possession of men"—Carlyle

OUR DUTY TO OUR BOOKS

THESE words of Carlyle suggest our duty to our books and the great value of a library in the home. Any book that is worth having is surely worth treasuring—worth preserving. The bookshelves of other days, serving simply to hold the precious volumes, and exposing them to the ravages of destroying dust and yellowing air, have given way to the modern bookcase of today, with its unit dust-proof sections and glass paneled doors, through which the old books look out, and we "seem to read on their backs something besides their titles—a kind of solemn greeting."

The later day solid bookcase, no less than the bookshelves of our fathers, is impractical. In size it is always too large or too small. It is bulky, cumbersome, unwieldy, and difficult to handle. Once placed, there it must remain; as stationary as the wall against which it stands.

THE IDEAL BOOKCASE

A library grows and a practical bookcase must grow with it. Expansion, as applied to bookcases, is a happy thought which meets the requirements of new and changing conditions. The ideal Sectional Bookcase is the LUNDSTROM.

ITS ECONOMY

"It grows with your library." When one section is filled, you add another, and in this way the expense is scarcely felt. One Lundstrom section costs only about what one good book costs. Surely, if good books are worth acquiring, they are worthy of good homes and good care.

ADAPTABILITY AND ARTISTIC MERIT

The Lundstrom Sectional Bookcases can be arranged to occupy almost any vacant space or adjusted to any little cosy nook or corner. They add to the attractiveness of any home. They are also a delight to the eye and a distinct addition to the equipment of any home.

GENERAL CONSTRUCTION

Our Sectional Bookcases are composed of three different kinds of sections; interlocking securely with each other, forming a perfect construction, rivaling the old style bookcase in strength, solidity and artistic appearance and far surpassing it in modern practical advantages.

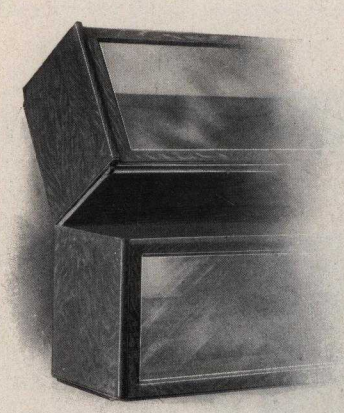
These three kinds of sections are the Top Sections, the Base Sections and the Book Sections.

TOP SECTIONS: As the sections for holding books are open at the top; the shelf of one section covering the top of the next lower one; a top section is necessary to cover the upper book section. This top section also serves to give a finished appearance to the case, as it is equipped with a handsome front moulding which produces a neat, artistic effect.

BASE SECTIONS: In order to raise the case from the floor, a base section should be used. This makes it easy to refer to books in the lower book section, and also gives the case a solid foundation. Our base sections are made in several different styles, as shown in the different illustrations throughout catalog. In using cases on a table, shelf or desk, this base section may be dispensed with, if desired.

BOOK SECTIONS: A case may be composed of top, base and one or more sections for holding books. These book sections are composed of shelf, back, two ends and door. The shelf is very solidly made and smoothly finished; being seven-eighths inch thick, it is very strong and will hold the weight of any number of books that may be placed in the section. The back is three-eighths inch thick, and is fastened to the shelf; both back and shelf being securely fastened to the ends of the section. These ends are seven-eighths inch thick, handsomely shaped and finished, and are beaded at the lower end to break the joint where the sections interlock. On the inside of the ends are secured the roller pivots and wire runways upon which the door operates. The door in our cases is one of our special features, and is fully described on page 7 of this catalog.

In every detail of construction, the "Lundstrom" represents the most improved type of sectional bookcase; in beauty of design, excellence of finish, and solidity of construction, it is the most perfect.

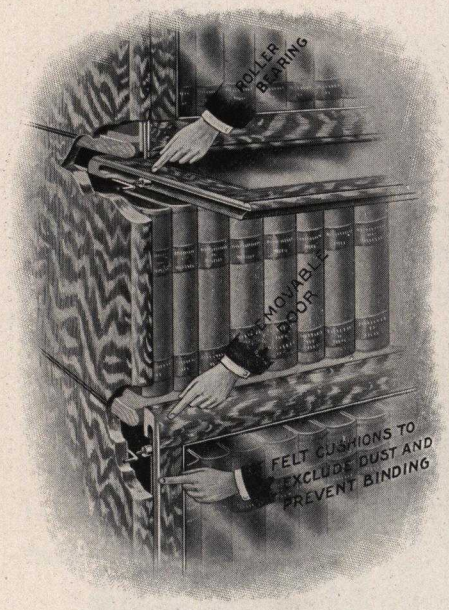


VERTICAL INTERLOCKING SYSTEM

As shown in accompanying cut, the upper ends of the sides are rabbeted to receive the projecting shelf portion of the adjoining section. The lower ends of the sides are provided with two metal discs, which engage two slots in the upper ends of the next section. This method of interlocking insures an absolutely dust-proof joint of perfect strength and alignment.

HORIZONTAL INTERLOCKING DEVICE

PERFECT ALIGNMENT between two or more tiers of sections is only possible with our PATENT HORIZONTAL INTERLOCKING DEVICE. The slides or bolts shown in the adjoining cut overlap alternately the backs of the book sections and hold sections in perfect unison. No METAL BANDS to mar the appearance of the case or tear loose by the sagging of the book sections. In using our horizontal interlocking device it is not necessary to do any fitting, or even disturb the sections. After having placed the sections end to end, the bolts are simply pushed over with the fingers from inside the case. When not in use the bolts are slid back entirely out of sight. With the LUNDSTROM PATENTED HORIZONTAL INTERLOCKING DEVICE, BOOK SECTIONS OF DIFFERENT SIZES MAY BE CONNECTED; AN EXCLUSIVE FEATURE OF greatest importance.



DOORS

The Lundstrom Sectional Bookcase is equipped with overlapping, pivoted glass doors, which, upon being raised to a horizontal position, SLIDE BACK over the books ENTIRELY OUT OF THE WAY.

Each door MAY BE REMOVED without disturbing the books or disconnecting the adjoining sections, a feature of great convenience when cleaning or replacing the glass.

The ends of the doors are provided with FELT CUSHIONS which insure AN ABSOLUTELY DUST PROOF CASE and PREVENT THE DOORS FROM BINDING by eliminating the friction between the doors and the ends or sides of the book sections.

The book sections are provided with ROLLER BEARINGS upon which the doors are hung and which allow the doors to slide back with perfect ease.

MATERIAL

We use the following woods in the construction of all exposed parts of our different style cases: MAHOGANY, BIRCH, QUARTERED AND PLAIN OAK. When we specify these woods, we mean the SOLID WOOD, not veneered stock, which is a combination with some cheaper material.

MAHOGANY CASES are constructed of wood especially selected for its fine grain. The finish is in harmony with the quality of the wood, creating a bookcase which would do justice to the most costly surroundings.

BIRCH CASES, finished to imitate mahogany, produce such a close imitation as to defy detection.

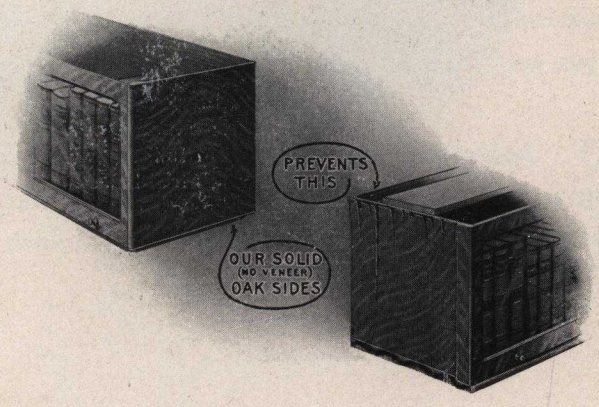
QUARTERED OAK CASES have an exceptionally fine grain, the large flaky figures being very conspicuous.

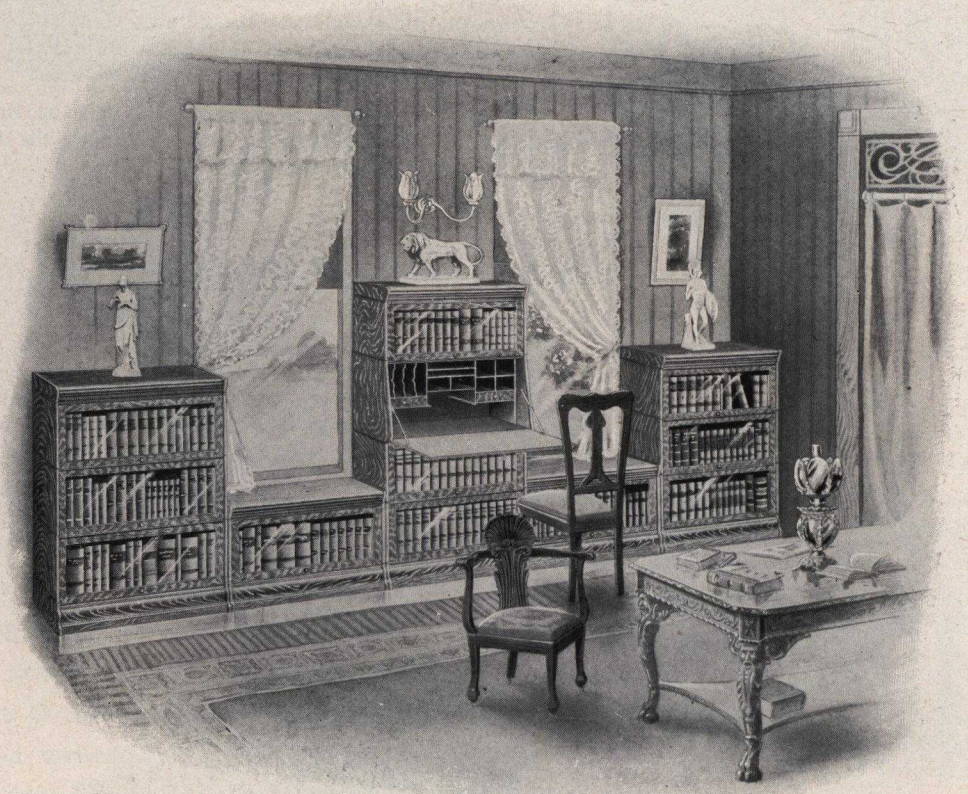
PLAIN OAK CASES are made of the best Southern stock, perfectly matched in grain and color. These cases are a general favorite for office use.

The knobs are finished in antique oxidized copper, and will not tarnish or wear brassy.

We use nothing but the very best grade of picture glass in our doors. The glass is perfectly clear and without specks or blemishes.

All lumber used in the construction of our cases is thoroughly kiln dried and is guaranteed not to warp or crack.





THIS Design is equally well adapted for use in the home or office library. The Cases are well constructed, neat in design, and all that can be desired in finish and workmanship. The book sections (Style C) have solid, plain ends, and the top section has a neat plain moulding. The front moulding on the base section extends from the lower book section to the floor, giving the case a very solid foundation.

Cases in the Standard Design are made in plain and quartered oak, in imitation and genuine mahogany. They are furnished in six different sizes; illustrated on pages 10 to 23.

On the opposite page we illustrate a simple artistic arrangement for the home library. There is nothing elaborate in this illustration, nothing which could not be easily duplicated in a modest home.

A few of these sections could be acquired at a time, according to the income of the purchaser, and in this manner a very artistic library can be built up without the expense being felt.

A large variety of arrangements can be secured by combining the full length and three-quarter length sections. Where possible, we would strongly advise the purchase of regular sized cases, as such cases may be rearranged to meet changing conditions, or to conform with the artistic ideas of the purchaser. Special cases can only be furnished at a greatly increased cost, but we are always willing to furnish such cases when required.

The artistic possibilities of our sectional bookcases are unlimited. They will transform the oddest shaped room into an imposing library and their neat, attractive appearance will lend a tone of refinement and culture to the home.

"Next to a friend's discourse, no morsel is more delicious than a ripe book."

THE IDEAL CASE FOR HOUSING LAW BOOKS

THERE is probably no profession which necessitates the use of a larger number of reference books than the practice of law. New reports are issued from time to time which the up-to-date lawyer must purchase, and the manner of housing these books safely and economically is therefore an important one.

ADAPTABILITY

Office room, even in the large modern office buildings, is very limited. It is therefore a matter of necessity that the space be used as economically as possible. This is where the sectional bookcase adapts itself to the existing conditions by utilizing spaces, such as between and under windows, which would otherwise be a total loss. By using these odd spaces for the housing of books, there is more room left for desks and other equipment, thereby giving a small office a large and roomy appearance.

If a change of location is contemplated, the sectional bookcases can be taken down, a section at a time, without removing the books, and transported to the new office. You can then rearrange your cases to conform with the new surroundings, without submitting to the inconvenience and exorbitant cost of having new fixtures built in.

THE ECONOMY

of the sectional bookcase is plainly evident when compared with the cost of common pine shelving. The present rate of labor in our large cities brings the cost of those shelves very high in comparison with their real value, without mentioning the inconvenience of having your office in a dismantled condition while the necessary fixtures are being installed. The plain shelves cannot protect the books from dust, thereby leaving them a constant source of annoyance from this disagreeable feature, when necessary to use them for reference.

Our sectional bookcases are absolutely dust-proof. They will preserve the books in their original clean condition.

This combination is particularly convenient for accommodating different size books in the upper part and large size portfolios and periodicals in the lower part or cupboard base section.

Both cupboard and double book sections are provided with adjustable shelves and locks for the doors. These doors are hinged to the ends, instead of receding from front to back.

THESE cases are particularly well adapted for use in the exclusive home library, as they will harmonize with the most costly surroundings, and lend a tone of refinement to any home. These cases are made along the beautiful, graceful lines for which Chippendale furniture is noted. The book sections (Style B) have raised paneled ends, made from carefully selected stock. The top and base sections have roll or swell front mouldings. The base section is mounted on carved claw feet, and is provided with a drawer, equipped with handsome oxidized copper ring drawer pulls.

Cases in the Chippendale Design are made in quartered oak and in imitation and genuine mahogany. To accommodate the many different sizes of books found in the home library, they are furnished in six different sizes; illustrated on pages 26 to 31.

Chippendale cases may be made up either by book sections having panel ends (Style B) or by the less expensive plain end (Style C) book sections. The Swell Top and Leg Drawer Base will interlock with both styles.

On the opposite page we illustrate a Chippendale Library which suggests the unlimited possibilities of artistic arrangements with Lundstrom Sectional Bookcases. To combine artistic effect with the practical utility of a sectional bookcase has been our aim in the Chippendale design. It typifies the highest accomplishment of cabinet makers' art in sectionally made bookcases. Special care is taken in the finish of the Chippendale cases, and only selected material goes into their construction. The use of leaded glass in the upper section and bevel plate in the others, enhances the beauty of this style of case.

Where two windows come together, or under a very wide window, a single stack of standard length cases will sometimes not entirely fill the space. The illustration shows two of the three-quarter length cases in such a space. Under a window which is too narrow for a single stack of standard length cases, one stack of three-quarter length can often be used to advantage.

PRICES AND SIZES OF MISSION DESIGN, STYLE "F"

THE MISSION Design cases are well adapted for use in any home library, but particularly where the other furniture is in this same style. These cases conform strictly to the standard designs of Mission furniture, and their simplicity in design, and the massive and severe straight lines along which they are constructed, have made them very popular. The book sections (Style F) have flat paneled ends with heavy square rail surrounding the panel. The top and base sections also have paneled ends, and front moulding to match. The base section is set on feet to raise it from the floor, and has a drawer, equipped with fine old brass drawer pulls.

Cases in the Mission Design are made in plain and quartered oak and in imitation and genuine mahogany. Furnished in six different sizes, illustrated on pages 34 to 41.

The Mission Design Bookcases, with flat paneled ends, (Style "F") are carried regularly in stock in two lengths; standard full length, 34 inches, and three-quarter length, 25½ inches.

We list below the standard full length sections. The three-quarter length cost 25c per section less.

Top Boards for corners will be furnished at 50c for Plain Oak; 75c for Quartered Oak and Imitation Mahogany; $1.25 for Genuine Mahogany.

We recommend, and unless otherwise specified, will furnish the Weathered finish in Plain and Quartered Oak, and the dull finish in Genuine and Imitation Mahogany.

Artistically designed and beautifully finished throughout, this case is well adapted for home libraries where an open bookcase is desired. It is so constructed that doors may be attached to the sections at any time in the future.

We recommend either weathered or fumed finish for this case. Unless otherwise specified, we will furnish the weathered finish in plain and quartered oak, and the dull finish in imitation and genuine mahogany.

DIMENSIONS

The Standard and Chippendale Design Cases are made in two different lengths; standard full length, 34 inches long outside and 32 inches long inside; and three-quarter length, 25½ inches long outside and 23½ inches long inside.

Our book sections are named from their inside height or the height of book they will accommodate. Their actual height is a little greater than their listed height, to allow for tilting the books in removing from the cases. We give herewith list of the inside and outside dimensions of our different sections in Styles "C" and "E" (Plain Ends) and Style "B" (Raised Paneled Ends).

COMPARATIVE LENGTHS

This diagram will serve to illustrate the number of different spaces which can be accommodated by combining our standard and three-quarter length sections.

Our standard length sections measure 34 inches and our three-quarter length 25½ inches, outside measurement.

We can supply these three-quarter length cases in any of our different styles at 25 cents per section less than quoted for the regular standard length.

In selecting cases to fill a given space, we would suggest that the nearest combination of our regular lengths be used, as it costs considerable more to make up special work.

HOW TO ORDER

Arrange your books and determine by measurements in lineal inches the total length of shelf space required to hold them. Divide this length by 32 (which is the inside length of our book sections), and you will have the number of book sections needed.

The number of tops and bases will be governed by the arrangement desired. Five sections with top and base sections make a convenient height.

By the inside height of a book section is meant the distance between the shelf and the door, when the same is in a horizontal position. Thus a 9¼ inch book section will easily accommodate books up to 9¼ inches high, which is the size of the majority of books found in an ordinary home library.

Our 11¼ inch book section is suitable for all octavo works, and is a size particularly adapted for law offices as it will accommodate all reports, American Digest, American and English Encyclopedia of Law, etc.

Our 13¼ inch book section is suitable for all large books, such as Encyclopedia Brittanica, Webster's Dictionary, and similar volumes.

After determining the number and size of sections required, you can then select the grade and finish. For description of grades and finishes, see page 47.

Unless finish desired is mentioned, cases in Style C (Plain Ends) and Style B (Raised Panel Ends) will be furnished in the golden finish in plain and quartered oak, and polished finish in imitation and genuine mahogany. Cases in Style F (Flat Paneled Ends—Mission Design) will be furnished in the weathered finish in plain and quartered oak and dull finish in imitation and genuine mahogany.

HINTS FOR SELECTING A SECTIONAL BOOKCASE

In purchasing a sectional bookcase it should be remembered that you are investing in an article that will last a lifetime. The bookcase that would answer your requirements today, might not harmonize with the better grade of furniture you will doubtless possess in the years to come. It is therefore advisable to limit your purchase to a few sections of the better grades and increase your library as your circumstances permit.

Another suggestion: Your library will naturally grow and in time require the use of several stacks of cases. It is therefore important to select a bookcase which is capable of horizontal as well as vertical interlocking. There are a number of different cases on the market which can be piled one on top of the other, but there is only one case on the market where sections of different sizes can be interlocked horizontally. We believe that case will meet your present and future requirements; it's a "Lundstrom."

When you have made your selection, write your order plainly on one of the order blanks enclosed in the catalogue for this purpose, or, if you have mislaid the blank, any suitable paper will answer. Be careful to give your full address. It is not necessary to give us shipping instructions, as we will use our best judgment, selecting the quickest and best route.

After the order is complete, kindly enclose your remittance for the full amount and forward to us. This remittance can be made by Postal or Express Money Order, draft, personal check or currency. If currency is sent the letter should be registered.

SECTIONAL FILING CABINETS

Besides Sectional Bookcases we manufacture a full line of Sectional Filing Cabinets in several different styles, grades and finishes. The advantages of sectional filing cabinets are too apparent to require extended comment. Economy in first cost and in space are features which particularly commend themselves in a sectional filing cabinet. YOU PAY ONLY FOR WHAT YOU USE, and add more sections as your business demands. Its adaptability to any space and uniformity of appearance are readily appreciated where office room is limited. As a cabinet which grows with your business, and which is always complete, yet never finished, it is now recognized as the only logical equipment for a modern office.

In our Sectional Filing Cabinets we have developed a line of sectional cabinets which we believe to be unsurpassed for convenience, practicability and economy, and which is moderate in price and liberal in filing capacity.

In the construction of these cabinets we have aimed to reach the limit of durability without sacrificing attractiveness in design. The finish is of the best, and the general appearance such as will harmonize with the most costly surroundings. An interchangeable system of parts, and absolute uniformity in design and finish, assure the users of our cabinets of exact duplicates for future requirements.

By combining the different size cabinets you are almost certain to obtain a combination that will suit your exact requirements. While we do not make a specialty of devising filing systems, we are always willing to offer suggestions which our large experience with filing systems has enabled us to acquire. We recognize, however, that most offices know their own requirements best, and for that reason are better qualified to make the proper selections.

Our complete Filing Cabinet Catalogue No. F-5 will be mailed upon request.

Gentlemen:—I wish to write my appreciation of your manner and method of treating your patrons. Gentlemen:—I have now had the sectional bookcases you sent me for about a year, and I desire to express to you the perfect satisfaction they have given, and also the very courteous, friendly and honorable treatment shown me by your house. Gentlemen:—I have been using your sectional bookcases for some time as well as other sectional bookcases, and regard yours superior to all others in neatness, simplicity and expense.

Gentlemen:—The Lundstrom sectional bookcases recently ordered from you have arrived and are now in use. They are exceedingly neat and well made, and are really an ornament to my office. Gentlemen:—The sectional bookcase purchased of you gives entire satisfaction. It will certainly satisfy the most exacting and critical person in the matter of bookcases. Its superiority and value become more apparent when it becomes necessary to take up carpets in cleaning house, or in moving to another room or another house, or in case of fire, when a person may readily remove the case--section at a time without disturbing the books. Its reasonable price is another feature that should recommend its use to the public.

Very truly yours,
WM. R. GAULT,
Ex-Probate Judge of Coshocton County, Coshocton, Ohio.

Gentlemen:—It gives me great pleasure to say something in approval of your "Lundstrom Sectional Bookcase" furnished me last year. I find them cheaper than any other sectional bookcase on the market, and at the same time in every way as handsome, durable and convenient as any of the others. Having at various times purchased of other makers of these cases, yet if I should require any additional cases, I would duplicate my order of a year ago to you.

Respectfully yours,
GEO. W. WARD,
County Judge, Herkimer County, Little Falls, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—I have been using a number of your sectional bookcases for the past three years and am greatly pleased with them. They are much more satisfactory than those I purchased about the same time which are of a well-known make and nearly double in price. I expect to add several new bookcases to my office and residence this fall and will purchase nothing but the "Lundstrom."

CHARLES H. RUTHERFORD,
United States Commissioner.

Gentlemen:—Some months ago I received from you a number of your sectional bookcases. I had noticed an advertisement in a magazine representing the character of the cases you handle, and as the price was cheaper than other goods of like character, I made the order. I am very much pleased with these bookcases, and they have been admired by many people who have examined them. I am very glad to be able to recommend the same to any one.

Yours very truly,
W. M. MELLETTE,
Department of Justice,
Office of U. S. Attorney,
Western District of Indian Territory, Muskogee.

Gentlemen:—For many years I have been using your sectional bookcases and have found them to be the equal of any. Taking into consideration the price and serviceableness, I believe them to be the best in the market. I am well pleased with the cases I have from time to time ordered from you.

Yours very truly,
THOS. B. McGREGOR,
Assistant Attorney General of Kentucky, Frankfort, Ky.

DOCTORS

Sectional bookcases received. I write you thanking you for the promptness with which you executed my order, as I was in a particular hurry for the same. The "Lundstrom" certainly excels all others in features too numerous to mention. Two factors, however, appeal to me more than any other, namely superior workmanship in construction and finish; and the price, which is considerably lower than any other manufacture.

You certainly have eliminated all objectionable features in sectional construction, notably the uncomely appearance of metal bands holding sections together, the dust proof doors, and the "flimsy" hanging of the doors so commonly found in many of the unit systems of bookcases on the market. You will shortly see my name on a Lundstrom order blank again.. Thanking you again for kind treatment extended me, I remain.

F. WHITNEY DAVIS, M. D.,
525 West 123d Street, New York City.

Dear Sirs:—My first order of five sections of your bookcases was given you some five or more years ago and since then I have twice duplicated the order and when in need of more shall duplicate it for the third time as they give satisfaction in every way.

Yours respectfully,
E. S. ABBOTT, M. S., M. D.,
Bridgton, Maine.

Gentlemen:—I am enclosing freight bill covering shipment of bookcases of March 12. They were delivered in good shape and I am well pleased with their appearance. I feel confident that I have saved at least 30 per cent by placing my order with you. Thanking you for your prompt service and the courteous treatment you have shown me.

Yours truly,
B. D. EPLING, M. D.,
Petersburg, Ill.

Dear Sirs:—Yours of recent date received. In reply will say that the case bought of your company some four years ago is satisfactory in every regard. It saved me about one-fourth on the cost of similar case of another make. I will be glad to answer any inquiries referred to me regarding the efficiency of your goods.

Very truly yours,
IRA C. BALLARD, B. L., M. D.,
Gadsden, Ala.

Gentlemen:—Received the sectional bookcase in perfect order and to say that I am well pleased with it would be expressing myself mildly. This is my fourth case that I have ordered and would not do business without them.

Very respectfuly yours,
DR. C. W. McPHERSON,
Hazelhurst, Ill.

DOCTORS

Gentlemen :—The book sections ordered from you some time ago arrived in good condition yesterday, and I must say I am more than pleased with their appearance when arranged in the form of two bookcases. I am agreeably disappointed because from examination of some other sectional book shelves and the prices asked for same, I was somewhat skeptical as to what yours might be. However, as mentioned above, they are very satisfactory and I shall likely order other sections as I need them, and will take pleasure also in recommending you to my acquaintances.

Very truly yours,
DR. ROBERT M. STERRETT,
Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sirs :—Bookcase of eight sections received and in good shape, and all fit in like clockwork and I beg leave to say that I am well pleased with the purchase.

Yours truly,
DR. D. R. WILLIAMS, Girard, Ohio.

Gentlemen :—Yours of recent date is at hand, and in reply would say I am perfectly satisfied with sectional bookcases bought of you five years ago. In fact think it a little bit the handiest as well as cleanest of any which I have seen.

Yours very truly,
E. E. MORTON, M. D., Ayrshire, Iowa.

CLERGYMEN

Gentlemen :—I have now in use in my library 18 sections of your sectional bookcases and find them highly satisfactory in every respect. The late cases are models of perfection. I have carefully examined every sectional case on the market, and have found nothing equal to the products of your factory, even at double your prices. I most heartily reccommend the Lundstrom to those who desire a first-class case at reasonable prices.

Yours sincerely, REV. H. HOWARD SHAW,
Pastor Methodist Episcopal Church, Hartford, West Va.

Gentlemen :—Your claims for your sectional bookcase show a degree of modesty rarely met with on the advertising page. In your line clergymen have long needs but short pocketbooks. Your prices, however, make it possible for the sectional to take root in the study without danger of extravagance. I wish to commend your cases and your direct, honest, business like dealings with your customers.

Very respectfully,
REV. FRANKLIN D. ELMER,
Pastor First Baptist Church, Winsted, Conn.

Gentlemen :—I am very well satisfied with your sectional bookcases. During the three years I have used them they have met every demand of durability and convenience that you claim for them, and I am pleased to express this opinion of their beauty and utility.

Sincerely,
R. W. ILLINGWORTH,
Pastor Presbyterian Church, Somerset, Pa.

My Dear Sirs :—The case I got from you was satisfactory in every respect. If I were in need of another, I would send to you.

Yours truly,
A. H. C. MORSE,
Pastor Strong Place Baptist Church, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Gentlemen :—Seeing a set of your sectional bookcases in a neighboring priest's library, at his recommendation I ordered a set and am pleased to say that they give perfect satisfaction, especially considering their cheapness. I am pleased also that the order and delivery had no hitch.

Yours, etc.,
J. A. M. WILSON,
St. Mary's Church, Pawnee, Ill.

Dear Sirs :—In answer to yours of recent date permit me to say that the cases purchased from you have proved entirely satisfactory. We need additional sections and when ready to order you will hear from us.

Yours,
F. A. READ,
Pastor First Baptist Church, Martins Ferry, Ohio.

Dear Sirs :—I have just finished setting up the sectional bookcase ordered from you recently. To say that I am pleased is putting it mildly. In appearance, style and finish, the case is far ahead of what I had expected. I shall surely order more sections in the near future. Please send me two or three catalogs for some of my friends. I want them to profit by my experience.

Gratefully yours,
F. D. ADAMS. (REV.), Avon, Ill.

TEACHERS

Dear Sirs :—In answer to your question of recent date it gives me much pleasure to state that the sectional bookcases of your make which I have are satisfactory in every respect, so much so that I shall continue to order additional sections as the need arises.
